What Two Cents Will Do.

It will bring relief to sufferers from asthma or consumption, even in the worst cases. This is about what one dose of Foley's Honey and Tar costs. Isn't it worth a trial? Anti-Monopoly Drug Store.

From the Ocala Evening Star of April 1st, 1901.

"We are indebted to Mr. George Close for the finest cabbage and lettuce we have ever seen grown in Florida. Mr. Close is a man of fine judgment, and one of the most successful truckers in the state and he is a generous and large hearted as he is prosperous."

Mr. Close bought his seed from the old reliable seedsman J. B. Sutton, who handles only the best seeds to be had especially adapted to Florida and makes a specialty of the finest strains of cabbage, egg plant, lettuce, onion and tomato seed. See display advertisement in another column. 7-12tf

How the Talk Goes On.

Several of the state papers are attacking Bro. Harris, of the Ocala Banner, on account of his recent article regarding the political ambition of Mr. Flagler, in which he seemed to speak with authority, as the representative of Florida's millionaire. We think these criticisms wholly uncalled for and unjust to the Banner. If Mr. Flagler desired to reach the people of Florida, Mr. Harris and the Banner certainly had the right and privilege to announce his intentions, and there does not seem to be anything in Mr. Flagler's new program of "rest and recreation" to conflict with the Banner's principles carried at its masthead; and its devotion to Callism in the past does not conflict with the Banner's close relations with Mr. Flagler, for the news was spread very recently that the ex-senator himself had gotten into rich company and had formed a combine with Millionaire J. J. Hill et al., by which the ex-senator was to superintend the investment of some of their spare cash in Florida.

So it seems that the Banner, in this respect, is but following the example of its leader.—Monticello Tribune.

DOINGS AT MARTIN.

Lumber Plant May be Enlarged But May Lose the Easterlings.

Saturday was pay day for the Crane-McMahan Lumber Camp. This company will soon put ten extra teams to working here. Manager J. W. Brown will soon be in position to give places to a number of colored men. They must be extra large and strong and suited to logging work. Pay will be satisfactory to the right ones.

Easterling Bros., left here Saturday with a large number of their men for Albany, Ga. In the company were J. R. Easterling, B. L. Easterling; B. B. Easterling, superintendent of packers; Gilmore Sims, assistant; J. E. Allen, Jr., foreman of crate makers and car packers. Mr. Stewman, of Lowell, also went. A number of colored helpers were taken along. Among them were Joe Sauer, Rev. John McDuffy, James Manor, Joe Morris, Reuben Tucker, Handy Andy and others.

The junior member of the firm, B. L. Easterling, will go on to Barnwell, S. C., and put a force to work there within ten days, after which he will leave for Parkston, N. C., where he will harvest two hundred acres of cantaloupes. J. R. Easterling, with the expert packers taken from Florida, will go to Albany and begin gathering and shipping the crop at that point at once. The crop at Barnwell will be harvested by G. Sims and Barney B. Easterling.

The firm and the help brought here were shown a mark of honor by the large number of their employees. More than a hundred people came to the depot to see them off and wish them a safe trip. There are many regrets expressed by workmen and business people, because the firm will probably go to the east coast to make their next year's crops.

The east coast people are trying to interest the firm, and two or three members will return to Florida in a few weeks to make a thorough inspection of the whole section from St. Augustine to Miami. Since the specialties produced by this firm can be raised on the east coast earlier, and in view of the special inducements offered, Martin will probably suffer a great loss by the removal.

One member of the firm said it was highly probable that a large acreage of watermelons only would be planted on the lands contiguous to Ocala, as the soil there was so well suited to them.

This firm has certainly taught very forcibly that in order to get the best results not only must the earliest markets be sought, but also that only the choicest melons, in fancy crates, are worth sending to northern markets. They send only the finest varieties, from choice stock, to their customers. In this way a fine reputation has come to them. Shipments always bring fancy prices, while the poorly packed and badly chosen stock of others is a drug on the market.

J. L. Perkins, telegraph operator, will leave on the 13th for a new field. He has served the office in a most acceptable manner, and has made many friends.

This section has great possibilities, if it is more fully developed. The freight receipts and forwarding business here during the past month amounts to eight or nine thousand dollars. The amount would have been more if cars could have been had to carry off several hundred logs in the yards belonging to Crane-McMahon Company.

Farmers are raising more corn and hogs in this section than ever before. A ready sale for all pork and corn can always be had, and the business is gradually taking the place of trucking.

Watermelons are still being shipped to northern markets in car load lots. More than fifty cars are yet to go. They are being loaded daily on the switches, both here and at Anthony. Mr. Howell and Captain T. H. Johnson are superintending the loading for the Easterlings. The fifty-acre field of "ice cream" melons is very fine. Shippers and commission houses pronounce these melons to be extra sweet and quickly salable. Many of this variety weigh sixty pounds, and few weigh less than twenty-five pounds.
